The current application is a continuation of U.S. Patent Application Serial No. 09/676,124 filed on September 29, 2000, which is a continuation of U.S. Patent Application Serial No. 08/694,542 filed on August 09, 1996, but not is a continuation of U.S. Patent Applications Serial Nos. 09/373,337, 08/794,970, 08/645,826 and 08/202,505.

Since, the applications are not copending, the benefit claim to the prior-filed application is improper. Applicant is required to delete the reference to the prior-filed application from the first sentence(s) of the specification, or the application data sheet, depending on where the reference was originally submitted, unless applicant can establish copendency between the applications.

Applicant claimed that this application is a continuation of 09/676,124, ... etc; and is a continuation of 09/808,468, ... etc. Because the subject disclosed in these two applications is not the same, this application is not a continuation (See MPEP 201.07) but a continuation-in-part (See MPEP 201.08). For example, the recitation part (e) of claims 99 and 115 is not found in 09/676,124 or 08/694,542.

Therefore, this application having SN: 09/901,428 is not entitled to the benefit of an earlier filing date under 35 U.S.C. 120 of the U.S. Patent Application Serial No. 09/808,468. Claims 99 and 115 in this application having SN: 09/901,428 have been not considered to be an interference with U.S. Patent No. 6,285,027.

However, if this application is intended to be a continuation of U.S. Patent Application Serial No. 09/808,468, then the claim is untimely according to 37 CFR 1.78. Further, all the specifications of the current application and the continuation applications have to have commonly disclosed the same subject matter as recited in claims 99 and 115.

Objected Drawings

The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a). The drawings must show every feature of the invention specified in the claims. Therefore, means for providing a delay between the release of the pulses of trapped ions and initiation of pulses in the Time-Of-Flight instrument and means for adjusting the delay to improve the duty cycle efficiency of ions with the second mass to charge ratio as recited in claims 99 and 115 must be shown or the feature(s) canceled from the claim(s). No new matter should be entered.

Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as "amended." If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. The replacement sheet(s) should be labeled "Replacement Sheet" in the page header (as per 37 CFR 1.84(c)) so as not to obstruct any portion of the drawing figures. If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Rejection Under 35 U.S.C. 112, First Paragraph

Claims 99 and 115 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention.

The specification is unclear for reciting the limitations “means for providing a delay between the release of the pulses of trapped ions and initiation of pulses in the Time-Of-Flight instrument” and “means for adjusting the delay to improve the duty cycle efficiency of ions with the second mass to charge ratio” as recited in claims 99 and 115.

Therefore, the Examiner don't understand how is the pulse delayed between the release of the pulses of trapped ions and initiation of pulses in the Time-Of-Flight instrument? And what is the device that is used to adjust the delay to improve the duty cycle efficiency of ions with the second mass to charge ratio ?

Additional explanations are needed if applicant insists on including these features in claims 99 and 115 without the introduction of new matter.

Rejection Under 35 U.S.C. 102(e)

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

Art Unit: 2881

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 99 and 115 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being clearly anticipated by Chernushevich et al. (6,285,027) for the reasons above. See claim 1 of patent No. 6,285,027.

Applicant's arguments filed on 03-02-2007 and 07-30-2007 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive in view of the foregoing reasons.

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
